LOFTY, Pa., Sept. 5.-The little mining town of Scotch Valley in Lackawanna county near here was swallowed up tonight in one of the most complete mine cave-ins ever known in this region. The scene of the disaster is on the slope of Nount Lockout, the score of houses comprising the hamles being at the mouth of the shaft of the Mount Outlook colliery. The wiidest excitement prevails throughout the region and details are fragmentary. It is known, however, that the dozen houses on each side of the principal street of the hamlet are completely swallowed up in the gaping hole and nothing can be seen of the other buildings of the town but the roof, gables and chimneys. It is impossible to state accurately the ber of fatalities, or if there are any,
